

Chapter 1: Introduction

This is the first paragraph about machine learning. It introduces basic concepts.

Section 1.1: Supervised Learning

Supervised learning uses labeled data. The model learns from input-output pairs. Common algorithms: linear regression, decision trees, support vector machines.

Section 1.2: Unsupervised Learning

Unsupervised learning finds patterns in unlabeled data. Clustering and dimensionality reduction are typical tasks.